

Action Project of Yuva Paryavaran Leader Students

Sainaa Yadav, 8th std
City Montessori School, RDSO colony
Lucknow

Theme- Greening and Environment

Objective- The objective of the project is:

- a) To spread awareness regarding the topic of environment conservation.
- b) To make people realize the urgency and seriousness of saving mother earth.
- c) To plant trees at a large number so that the conservation can be carried on a serious note at the local level.

Need of the project- This project would help us in many ways:-

- 1) Due to the active participation of school students, this project can be taken at a large level.
- 2) When public activities like cleanliness drive and plantation of trees will be carried out, the people will be given prizes which would encourage them further to do these activities again and again in the future.
- 3) For carrying out these activities successfully a major role will be played by the
 - a) Teachers: They will explain the importance of the topic to the students and would encourage them.
 - b) Students: The students would carry the project forward by further taking active participation in the activities.
 - c) Local people: They would help us to maintain the hygienic conditions in the locality by participating in the activities which would be organized in every second week of the months.
- 4) When the people will participate in the activities weekly and monthly, they will surely realize the importance of conserving the environment and would continue those drives even after the project will be finished.

How you will achieve it-In this project we will make the local people and the students aware about the topic of environment conservation by carrying out different interesting activities at different levels. This would not only encourage the people and the students to carry out the project till the initiation period but also when the project will be finished. We can carry it out successfully by giving small prizes so as to encourage the people and the students. We will also organize competitions at school level to gather more interest from the student's side.
